BELLEVUE IS OVERCROWDED

WITH NO RELIEF IN SIGHT FOR TWO YEARS.

The Allied Hospitals Are Also in a Bad Fix-75 Patients in Ward Intended for 29-Evils of Necessary Transto the Island Institutions.

The crowded conditions prevailing in the hospitals of the city during the last month, especially in Bellevue and the allied hospitals, and the knowledge that the situation will grow more acute during the next two years before the hospital accommodations can be increased, have caused the trustees of Bellevue and the allied institutions to view the outlook with feelings of alarm.

At the request of the Bellevue trustees the clerks of the allied hospitals have compiled figures which show the remarkable increase in the city's hospital needs and easily account for the conditions during

The figures show that Bellevue alone admitted and treated 27,068 cases during 1903. an increase of 3,995 patients over the previous year. Gouverneur had 4.052 cases, an as compared with 2,374. Fordham showed a decrease of 3.5 per cent. of patients, due to the fact that those from the Alexander avenue precinct were sent to Lebanon Hospital last year, thus relieving Fordham. The average daily census in Bellevue was $18 last year compared with 723 in 1902. Although Bellevue has 839 beds for adult patients, 200 of these are in special wards and are useless in time of an epidemic.

It will easily be seen that at no time during the last year has Bellevue been free from crowded conditions, and during that time the alcoholic and prison wards have been unusually crowded. The prison ward generally has fifteen patients to ten beds. The alcoholic ward, the most widely patronized in the institution, has had, at times, as many as seventy-five patients for its twenty-nine beds. In these cases cots have had to be used and efficient treatment has been greatly hampered.

The Bellevue trustees realize, however, that the greatest need for more room is to prevent the transfer to Blackwell's Island institutions of regions. dition to leave warm beds and make the dition to leave warm beds and make the journey. Concerning the harmful effects of transferring patients, one of the Bellevue trustees said yesterday:
"What is causing us the greatest worry is the present hecessity of transferring sick people back and forth from one hospital to another. Our "hospitals are all so small that, in order to care for emergency cases, we must keep the wards in Fordham, Harlem and Gouverneur free from a surplus of patients, and accordingly transfers must be made to Bellevue.

"While it is not pleasant for a sick person to be taken from a warm bed in Fordham and transferred first to Harlem, later to Bellevue and eventually to the City Hospital, on the Island, it is no more enjoyable for the friends who call at one institution after another to visit him, to learn that he has lust here control to the province place. instruction of the criticism directed at Bellevue and the allied hospitals has been due to this very thing, but figures show that we have been helpless. When the new Fordham Hospital and the new sections of Bellevue are finished we will be free from this dis-turbing condition, but we cannot hope for any increase in capacity for at least two years, and possibly longer. I am greatly worried to know what we will do until then."

The work of getting under way the plans for the new Bellevue are proceeding so slowly that, with the best of luck, building slowly that, with the best of luck, building operations (on the first section cannot be started before spring. The architects have nearly completed the designs, which will be submitted to the Board of Estimate in a few weeks. As no money has yet been apportioned for building purposes, considerable time will elapse before ground is finally broken.

The various sections, six in number, will be exceted one at a time in such a way as be erected one at a time in such a way as not to interfere with the present building first section will be built in the centre of the grounds. The new Bellevue will accommodate 3,000 patients.

By crowding more cots into the wards, room was made at the City Hospital yesterday for forty patients from Bellevue, but this had to be done because Bellevue will be unable to transfer any more patients until Monday.

Movement in Boston to Make the Fourth Less Dangerous and Less Noisy. Boston, Jan. 30.—Young America in Massachusetts will not be pleased if the Legislature listens to the prayers of the Society of Daughters of the American Revolution for the passage of two bills which mean a less noisy celebration or the Fourth of July.

Under the guise of protecting the small boys from injuries, the society has secured 1,800 signers to its petition, which was presented in the House on Thursday. It recites that, according to carefully prepared statistics, toy pistols, blank cartridges and cannon crackers on the last Fourth of July caused injuries to 4,458 persons in the Northern States. One bill reads, as follows:

"Section 1. The sale, or exposure or offering for sale, of firecrackers more than three inches in length and one-half inch in diameter, and of all firecrackers containing dynamite, or other high explosive other han gunpowder, and of toy pistols, toy cannon and blank cartridges is hereby

The other bill provides:

"Whoever gives away, sells, or offers rockets, crackers, squibs or serpents, without a license from the Mayor and Aldermen of the city, or the Selectmen of the town, shall forfeit not more than $10 for each offence, but no such license shall authorize the sale, or exposure, or offering for sale of firecrackers more than three inches in length and one-half of an inch in diameter, or of firecrackers containing dynamite or other high explosive other than gunpowder.

A NEW WASHINGTON LETTER

COLUMBIA FINDS IT IN A GIFT OF DOCUMENTS.

Written to Alexander Hamilton Before the Writer's Election to the Presidency and Expresses His Wish to Live collection of unpublished letters of American statesmen, recently given to Coumbia, is now on exhibition in the university library. One letter recently discovered is from George Washington. The letter is written on a single folded heet and is in the stiff, formal handwriting haracteristic of the writer. It is addressed to Alexander Hamilton and was written pefore Washington's first election to the Presidency. The letter follows: MOUNT VERNON, Aug. 28, 1788.

DEAR-SIR! I have had the pleasure to receive your letter dated the 13th-accompanied by one addressed to Gen. Morgan. I will forward the latter to Gen. Morgan by the first conveyance, and add my particular wishes that he would comply with the request contained in it, although I can searcely imagine how the watch of a British officer, killed within their lines, should have fallen into his hands (who was many miles fallen into his hands (who was many miles away from the scene of action), yet, if it so happened, I flatter myself there will be no rejuctance or delay in restoring it to the family.

away from the scene of action), yet, if it so happened, I flatter myself there will be no reluctance or delay in restoring it to the farally.

As the perusal of the political papers under the signature of Publins has afforded me great satisfaction, I shall certainly consider them as claiming a most distinguished place in my library. I have read every performance which has been printed on one side and the other of the great question lately agitated (so far as I have been able to obtain them), and, without an unmeaning compliment, I will say that I have seen no others so well calculated (in my judgment) to produce conviction on an unblased mind, as the Production of your Triumvirate. When the happiest circumstances and fugitive performances which attended this crisis shall have disappeared, that work will merit the notice of posterity; because in it are candidly discussed the principles of freedom & the topics of government, which shall be always interesting to mankind so long as they shall be connected in Civil Society.

The circular letter from your convention, I presume, was the equivalent by which you obtained an acquiescence in the proposed Constitution. Notwithstanding I am not very well satisfied with the tendency of it, yet the Federal affairs have proceeded, with few exceptions, in so good a train that I hope a political machine may be put in motion without much effort or hazard of miscarrying. On the delicate subject with which yeu conclude your letter I can say nothing, because the event alluded to may never happen; and because, in case it should occur, it will be a point of prudence to defer forming one's uitimate and irrevocable decision, so long as new data might be offered for one to act with the greatest wisdom and propriety. I would not wish to conceal my prevailing sentiment from you. For you know me well enough my good Sir, to be persuaded that I am not guilty of affectation, when I ell you, it is my great and sole desire to live and die in peace and retirement, on my own farm. Were it ever ind

With this letter of Washington, the university has also on exhibition a number of letters of other Presidents. The following from Millard Fillmore to a publishing house would seem to indicate that in 124 the Chief Executive was not blessed with ready money:

AUROBA, Nov. 19, 1824.

DEAB SIR: Yours of the 1st ult. came to hand on the 15th, but the books did not arrive until yesterday.

I sent you my note as per request for $46.60 except that they are for three instead of two years, as I shall calculate to be ready to meet the payments at that time, and if convenient would be willing to pay in two or in three years, but wish to reserve the privilege to myself so as to be by no means embarrassed.

The remaining part, which is to be paid down, $16.22, is ready: deducting from that one year's interest as proposed in your letter of the 13th of September last, it makes $15.00, which I knew of no safe opportunity to send until our member of Assembly shall go, next month, by whom (if I have no opportunity to send it sooner), I shall forward it. I am yours respectfully.
